

I believe the mandatory recording proposal being promoted by the FCC is a bad idea for broadcasters. Why should all of us be penalized because a small minority do not want to follow the rules? The cost in equipment, and man hours are not practical, nor justifiable when the vast majority of us are not in violation of the decency rule. Why not institute stiffer fines, and penalties for those who want to break the rules. Kevin